PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings, one and all.

Are you enjoying the cooler weather? I have been hearing reports of fish in various locations stirring out of their heat-induced lethargy and providing lots of action. Time to go out and make memories!

At last month's meeting we were visited by one of the two youngsters that attended to ICOA youth camp, supported by scholarships developed on memory of Al Sillonis. Our new local Conservation Officer, Shane Lusk, also attended and introduced himself. This month the other young man is scheduled to come and speak to us about his experiences.

If you are a flytyer, bring a few of your favorites to the meeting, to add to the collection {insert photo of Lloyd's foam fish ??} which will be auctioned at the year end meeting.

At our last board meeting we discussed changing the method of disseminating the Newscaster, utilizing the website rather than email. If you have any input about that, talk to one of the board before we finalize the move.

The fly tying emphasis this month, led by Ray Perkins, will be focused on midges, their importance as fish food, and ways to imitate their form and behavior. That's a fancy way of saying they help us catch fish.

Hope to see you on the 11th. Reports of fishing trips will be welcomed. Planning group trips is encouraged. Fish a bunch, and be safe.

Bruce
